

Abstract of the Disclosure

System and Method for Managing and Tracking Child Welfare Services

[148]           A method of monitoring the provision of child welfare services to a child. The method includes: receiving child update information on the child, the child update information including reporter information and child status information; storing the child update information in a central database; and providing a report based on the stored child update information.